Make your days count!

February 26 is the 57th day of the year in the Gregorian calendar. There are 308 days remaining until the end of the year (309 in leap years).

On Feb. 26, 1852, John Harvey Kellogg, the American physician who developed dry cereal, was born. Following his death on Dec. 14, 1943, his obituary appeared in The Times.

Singer Michael Bolton turns 60 years old today.

Country musician Johnny Cash was born in Kingsland, Ark.

Last year on this date

United States researchers announce a flexible battery that can be charged wirelessly and will continue to work when folded, twisted, or stretched

When I was a child at home, we had concrete laid in the front and down the entryway. There were 5 of us, my older sister... 5 years older than me and my youngest sister 5 years younger... did not want to take part in signing the concrete. But the three middle girls... we were thrilled.

Diane got on corner, Darlene, another and me another. Using a popsicle stick with strict instructions.... We printed our names, date and small handprints.

My prayer for my life... is I have more to be remembered by than that. The house sold about 9 years ago... the new owners probably have no idea who Debbie, Diane and Darlene are...

We have already used up 57 days of 2014.... With only 309 left... What mark will you leave?
