What will you be tied to?

July 9 2013 Co Meeting

A three-legged race is a favorite at community picnics and school carnivals. It is a game of cooperation between partners as much as it is one of speed. It involves two participants attempting to complete a short sprint with the left leg of one runner strapped to the right leg of another runner. The object is for the partners (team members) to run together without falling over, and beat the other contestants to the finish line.

As part of Hobby Lobby you now have the opportunity to attach yourself to the company's policies and procedures.

They may not make sense at first to you but they work. They will work for you if you work with them. Team work, Cooperation, Unity, the race is much easier when we are going the same way.

You have retail background; this is nothing new but just a reminder. However, I would like to take it one step further; many of you are here because of major transitions in your lives. You never intended at this stage of your life to be starting a new job. But anyway here you are. What an opportunity!

And if during this transition you fell like maybe you are at the end of your rope.... May I suggest you call out to Jesus Christ? If you do or not, you are here to manage and lead a store that is why you were hired but in doing that, I pray you will attach yourself to the one true God who can and will help us get across the finishing line.

Get on your mark.... Get ready.....

2 Cor. 6:14

Be not unequally yoked.....

The principle is the foundation of this verse.
